

Compatibility and Conflict: Working with Composite Charts

Brian Clark and Glennys Lawton
Saturday September 4, 2010

When two charts have been thoroughly analyzed and compared, a third chart can be created. This is known as the composite chart (or the relationship chart) which attempts to delineate energies of the relationship itself, when the two individuals become one entity and act out of a shared space. In this workshop we will explore the alchemy of the composite chart, its use and development and the process that leads to its creation.
